ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORTS.

STILL LATER FROM EUROPE.

PRIVATEER SHENANDOAH GIVEN UP.

U. S. Consul to send vessel to New York.

Unconditional Release of Officers and Crew.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The steamship China, from Liverpool, has arrived with dates to the 11th and 12th.

The Confederate privateer, Shenandoah, has been delivered to the American Consul by the English naval authorities and will be sent to New York.

Capt. Waddell, the commander of the famous cruiser, his officers and crew have been unconditionally discharged.

Liverpool cotton market opened dull, but closed firmer, with an advance of quarter of a penny on American on the week. Dull for Egyptian, and a decline in value from a quarter to half penny. Orleans middling advanced a penny.

London, Nov. 11th. Consols closed at 89a89¼; U. S. five-twenties 63 to 63¾.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

Liverpool, 12th Nov., 4 p. m.—Sales of cotton to-day amounted to 8 000 bales, but the market was less firm than during the morning. Quotations, however, remained unchanged. Bread stuffs unchanged; provisions firmer.

London, 12th Nov.—Consols 89 to 89 1-8; U. S. five twenties 62 1-2 to 64.

The Steamship Atlanta.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The steamship Atlanta is not yet allowed to leave quarantine. The cabin passengers have been placed in a small vessel, and, after thorough fumigation of the baggage, will be permitted to come to the city. No disposition has yet been made of the steerage passengers.

Movement of Troops Ordered.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—All the regular United States cavalry, excepting the Fifth regiment, have been ordered to San Antonio Texas.

The Internal Revenue Frauds.

PITHOLE, PA.—Nov. 20.—A hearing in the case of the alleged frauds against the Internal Revenue Department in the return of oil takes place at Meadville on Wednesday. Several prominent parties have been notified to appear and answer.

The Mississippi Legislature.

JACKSON, MISS., Nov. 16.—The Mississippi Legislature has adopted a memorial to President Johnson, praying the withdrawal of United States troops from Mississippi. The House of Reprentatives has rejected, by a decided vote, the proposition to admit negro testimony against whites. Judge Gwin, at Jackson, has declared the action of the Legislature abolishing cotton courts unconstitutional. Governor Humphreys vetoed the bill, and the Legislature passed the bill over his veto.

The Vicksburg Herald says that General Howard, of the Freedmen's Bureau, states that he had not discovered the condition of affairs sufficiently promising in Southern States to justify him in recommending the withdrawal of the Freedmen's Bureau. He regarded affairs improving in Georgia and Alabama.

Intervention in Mexican Affairs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—The New Orleans Times says, in relation to the rumors of naval and military preparations: "We have information that we are not at liberty to disclose, giving positive corroboration to these rumors, and we hesitate not to predict that, unless the French troops are withdrawn from Mexico before Chrismas, there will be active intervention on behalf of the Liberals, and the traditional policy of the United States be vindicated."

Further from Mexico—Retaliation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19th.—The Herald's city of Mexico correspondence states that the Mexican General Palacios, in retaliation for the execution of the Liberal Generals by the French, has ordered all the French, Austrian and Belgian prisoners held by him to be shot. It has previously been stated that the Imperialist Colonel Mendez had ordered the Liberal Generals Artega and Salazark, and three Colonels to be shot. The Herald's correspondence also says that the reported defeats of Figuero by the Imperialists is false. Ugalde, who was also said to have been routed, had arrived at Muscatio with 500 men, having made a raid thither.

The defeat of Ortega in Michoacan is said to be of no very great importance, as there are over 4,000 well armed and organized Liberal troops in that State, commanded by several popular leaders.—Between four and five hundred Imperial soldiers, suffering from intermittent fever, had arrived at San Louis recently, and they were dying off rapidly.

Maximilian's journey to Yucaatn is deferred, the writer thinks, until the Emperor judges that it is time for him to leave the country. The Empress would start on the 5th instant for Vera Cruz and Yucatan.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax on a Rampage.

Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Speaker of the last House of Representatives, and who, it is generally conceded, will occupy the same position in the approaching session of Congress, delivered a speech in Washington on Saturday evening. In reference to the next Congress, he stated that it would be the ablest which had assembled during his knowledge of public affairs, and would not be governed by any spirit of revenge, but solely by duty to the country. He thought the danger now in "reconstruction" was in "too much precipitation," and advised that we "make haste slowly;" and though he would hail the day when all the States should revolve in their appropriate orbit around the Central Government, and when we can behold them "distinct as the billows, but one as the sea," he could not forget that history teaches us it was eight years after the surrender of Yorktown, in the Revolutionary war, though our fathers were of one mind as to the necessity, before the Constitution was adopted and the Union established.

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, speaking of this address, says:

The topic of to-day is the speech of Mr. Colfax, at the National Hotel, last evening. He has said that he had only a brief interview with the President, therefore his remarks are not to be regarded as indicating the character of the forthcoming message.—But Mr. Colfax has been Speaker and is likely to be again. He is demonstrative, as was shown last winter, by decoupling from the chair to institute proceedings against Mr. Harris, of your State. He is ambitious, and therefore has recalled his express determination of retiring from Congress, and he probably looks higher than to the third office in honor in the Government.

Mr. Colfax, like Mr. Forney, and perhaps a very few others, throws out ideas which he intends shall influence the course of the President, and enlist the support of the country. These views look to legislation that will disturb the South for a decade, if they are not tabooed by a sound public opinion. They as much as desired of the President to make other requirements of the South than he has done. Nothing short of that condition that will make the rebel States what the East Indies are to Great Britain, will satisfy the plunderers whose names are legion. I believe that they will fail in their man if they much depend upon the President for aid and comfort.

THE DAILY PROGRESS.

VOL. VI. RALEIGH, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 22, 1865. NO. 317.

THE CITY.

☞ Persons in city and country are requested, at all times, to furnish us verbal or written information of any events of public interest which may transpire in their neighborhoods, or of which they may have knowledge.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.—The DAILY PROGRESS will appear in new type and an enlarged form on Monday next, the 27th instant, and as we shall issue a large edition of our enlarged sheet to circulate gratuitously throughout the State, as a specimen copy, business men will consult their own interests by handing in their cards, so as to have them appear in that issue. We shall also revise our advertising rates with the enlargement of the paper, and we promise they shall be very moderate. Hand in your advertisements by Saturday noon.

A NOBLE RESPONSE.—The note below from a property-holder explains itself. No doubt numbers of persons who have read our references to high house rents have been for the moment so blinded by imaginary interest as to encourage anything but kindly sentiments for us; but like "M," the soberer second thought is only necessary to show them that our ideas are correct, and they in the wrong.

In all that has been, or may be said in the "PROGRESS," there has been and will be in view only the interests of all classes of the community. It is our hope to see Raleigh a great city in point of wealth, energy, enterprise, morals and education, and unless a mistaken policy continues to inspire men of property, there is no reason why our anticipations should be disappointed.

The writer of the communication is himself of the class who appeared in the ring as a high renter; he announces his repentance, comes out from among them, and insists that the best possible course is a public meeting of landlords and tenants:

RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 20th, 1865.

Editor Progress:

I read with some indignation, at first, your severe criticisms on the property-holders of Raleigh—at least those of that class who own houses in the city; but reflection has convinced me that you have only performed faithfully your bounden duty as a journalist, having at heart the true and permanent interests of the community en masse.

I join you in requesting a conference of landholders and tenants. Our present seeming prosperity is obviously deceptive, and before winter's frosts, we shall probably have melancholy proofs of the fact.

Let us meet and take counsel together.

Yours, &c., M.

WINTER FASHIONS.—The following is the latest in regard to furs for the coming seasons:

The Pocket Muff is a novelty. It is somewhat in the shape of the morrocco bags which the ladies carry on shopping excursions, and is called the pocket muff. Some specimens of this muff are made up in a mink fur, with a leather back, and it has the natural head of the mink in front. A pocket for the purse and another for the handkerchief are in the muff, and there are also cord and tassels to go around the neck. It is admirably adapted for skating, as the hands can be withdrawn without danger of losing the muff. The collar to match this style of muff is narrow, being made of one entire skin, the head and tail forming the lappels in front.

The style of muff, made in grobe-skin, with the head of the bird turned over the pocket in front, and festooned with cords and tassels, is something quite curious. There is no collar to match the grobe-skin muff.

Foot Muffs.—Foot Muffs will, it is reported, be in greater demand this season than formerly. Shaped like a great shoe, and made large enough for both feet, they are very useful. The bottom is made of leather and the upper part usually of raccoon skin.—They are lined with fur, and bound with wolf-skin. These muffs are almost indispensable for ladies who would enjoy long drives in cold weather, and they may be relied on to keep the feet warm in church.—The foot muff, when properly made, can be rooled up and carried, and becomes a very great improvement upon the old-fashioned box or foot stove with a pan for coals—a very comfortable but not ornamental arrangement that our grandmothers took into church and on their short journeys.

PROSPECTING A SUPPER.—A supper is to be given for the entertainment of freedmen, at Guion's old hotel, next Monday night, we believe. Yesterday, a vender of tickets to the affair was offering them for sale in the vicinity of the market, when one or two juvenile descendants of Ham snatched a number of the admission cards and bolted down Fayetteville street. The ticket man pursued the wights who had thus prospected a feast—the race was exciting—and at last advices the two colts were head and neck ahead of the old horse.

WESTERN MUSICAL WORLD.—We have received a copy of this handsome monthly, printed by Brainard & Son, at Cleveland. This musical monthly is printed on beautiful white paper, has sixteen pages in each number, three columns to the page, six of its pages being devoted to the latest issues of new music. A dollar for one year makes it a cheap publication. Mr. T. O'Neal is the agent for this city.

STEAM LINE BETWEEN NORTH CAROLINA AND VIRGINIA.—Since we referred the other day to the steamship line between Newbern and Virginia, our notice the arrival at Norfolk of the "Palmetto" with one hundred bales of cotton, other freight and a number of passengers. The route is pleasant, safe and cheap, and we refer for particulars to the advertisement in our paper.

—General Sherman, while in Lawrenceburg, Ind., a few days ago, was asked what he thought of General Palmer's course in Kentucky. He replied: "Well, I don't know. If it's monarchy or consolidation we're after, he is right; but if we want to preserve the old form of government, he's all wrong."

—The Springfield Republican says: "Rev Henry Ward Beecher, besides satisfying himself while in Washington, by personal scrutiny, that the President is "all right," procured a brevet-lieutenant colonelcy for his son, Lieut. Beecher, and a pardon for Judge Grey, of Texas, in whom he is interested."

—A New York paper attempts to frighten the ladies by stating that rascals with sharp knives go about cutting off waterfalls, with all the dexterity of "ye scalping savages of the plains." It is to be hoped this story is unfounded. Could faith in human nature stand so severe a shock?

—The Augusta Chronicle, of the 8th instant, says, that the South Carolina Railroad is now open to Hopkins' Station, some ten miles from Columbia, and is in order on the Augusta branch, sixteen miles this side of Branchville. The bridge over the Edisto will soon be completed.

—The American Freeman's Aid Commission, at Washington, estimate that thirty thousand darkies in Georgia and forty thousand in Alabama will perish doing the present winter for want and exposure.

—The three daughters of Judge Taney, late Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court, are said to be left in destitute circumstances, and looking for employment with which to support themselves.

—The New York Herald says the Hon. H. J Raymond is laying a line of pipe for the Speakership, and that Greeley is tearing it up behind him, while Thurlow Weed is looking about for a New-York Collector.

—The true voting population of Baltimore city is at least thirty-five thousand, but the total vote cast on Tuesday, reached but little over five thousand, the action of the last Legislature having disfranchised a large majority of the voters.

—The suit of the Government against the Methodist Publishing House in Nashville has been dismissed, and it is supposed that the property will at once be turned over to the agents of the church.

—Among the passengers for Europe by the Java, on Wednesday, were Major General John M. Schofield, Brigadier General G. W. Schofield and Brigadier General W. M. Wherry, on a year's leave.

—Gen. Dudly has arrested negresses who were leading dissolute lives at Memphis, and bound them out to work on plantations for the balance of this year and all of next.

—It was Gen'l Jas. B. Brownlow. and not the Parson, that was robbed recently, near Nashville. Sorry 'twasn't the "Parson."

—From daylight Thursday, up to one o'clock, a dense fog prevailed at New York, causing the suspension of navigation, except for regular ferry boats.

—Lieut. Gen. Grant is still at the Metropolitan Hotel, New York, where he will remain till the middle of this week.

—We believe the only State prisoners now in close custody, are Messrs. Davis, Clay, Seddon, Malory, Burton Harrison and Lubbock.

—A few days ago a single firm in Boston paid duties amounting to $70,000 in gold at the Custom House.

—A special commission has been issued to try the Fenians at Dublin with power to adjourn to Cork.

—"Glory Hallelujah" is now the most popular street song in London.

—The Louisville Journal urges the unconditional pardon of Jefferson Davis.

INCENDIARISM.—If we do not in the South travel with such lightning speed as our friends in the North, there are fewer neck-breakings, brains-spilling and limb-lacerating operations. But as our internal improvements have generally passed into the old control, we print the following infallible remedy against accident by mismanaged switches—we spunk of the rail road article, though we have had an aversion to the word since our boyhood. Here it is:

"It can be utterly prevented by a very simple and cheap device—that of so constructing switches that a train can follow one off the main track only while a switchman stands holding the movable rail or switch to the main track by force exerted on a bar or lever. Whenever the switchman lets go, the switch should fly back, clear the main rail, and leave the track so that no train could be possibly have drawn away from it. In other words, all switches should be so constructed that no carelessness or distraction could convert them into death-traps for passengers or persons employed on the trains.

The needed change is very simple, very cheap, and within the competency of any decent mechanic. It involves the use of no patent that we ever heard of, while its efficiency is complete and palpable. If it be not made, what else than murder will be the next fatal "accident" by a misturned switch."

Let all North Carolina rail road companies take notice.

RENTERS THERE.—Immediately after the occupation of Raleigh and the surrender of Gen. Johnson, the authorities of the government kindly devised a plan for the temporary relief of farmers and others who had no teams. We regret to hear that some of the borrowers have been slow, if not altogether reluctant to comply with the stipulations of the receipts which they gave at the time the animals were lent them. This is not only bad faith, but worse taste. We sincirely hope that Wake county has no such class within her borders. Indeed, persons so favored should by fidelity to their contract attest appreciation of the favor done.

DEAD NORTH CAROLINIANS IN VIRGINIA.—For the information of their friends in Raleigh and elsewhere, we print below a list of Confederate soldiers who are buried at Middleway, Jefferson county, Va.:

Masonic Cemetery—J. M. Hammond, Co. H, 43d Regiment; Capt. Barnes, wounded in August and died in December, 1864.

English Graveyard.—P. M. Genner, Co. A, 1st Regiment; Jacob B. Delts, Co. E, 12th Regiment, killed September, 1862; Peter Newell, Co. E, 2d; C. H. Cox, Co. C, 14th; Rev. Robert Barber, Co. K, 43d.

Near Middleway.—E. B. M., Co. B, 28th Regiment.

CHOLERA.—Whatever steps are to be taken with the view of combating this merciless plagne, the cholera, ought to be taken at once. The rapidity with which it travels, and the stealthy steps with which it enters a new field for its murderous work, demands the promptest action on the part of those to whom is entrusted the sanitary condition of the city. We repeat it, that whatever steps are to be taken, ought to be taken at once. We have good reason for saying this.

Washington News and Gossip.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—The Baker detective case came up this morning before the Criminal Court. Baker and Spears, an officer of the detective force who is indicted with Baker, were admitted to $500 bail in each case. They will not be tried until next term, which will be in December. The Grand Jury of this district has reported two more bills of indictment against L. C. Baker, Government detective, for false imprisonment of Lucy L. Cobb, and for extortion.

Adjutant General Thomas has been ordered on a tour of inspection in Mississippi and Louisiana, with especial reference to the colored troops in those districts.

The proceeds from the sales of the Government buildings in the neighborhood of the dismantled forts around this city amount to $19,470.74.

The records of the Navy Department show that during the war nearly five hundred prizes were captured.

TOO MUCH METAL FOR JOHN BULL.—Recently, when the United States war steamer Wyoming was at St. Simon's Bay, Cape of Good Hope, several of that vessel's officers on shore met a number of English officers from an English vessel-of-war in the bay. One of the Englishmen, putting a circular piece of glass in front of one of his eyes, added, in an ironically obsequious manner:

"Officer, how many guns do you carry?"

"Six," replied the officer of the Wyoming.

"Oh! we carry eleven said the Englishman, straightening out in a very pompous manner.

"What weight of metal do you throw at a broadside?" asked the officer of the Wyoming.

"About eighty pounds," answered the Englishman, inflating himself with a mixture of wind and pride.

"Well," replied the officer of the Wyoming, "one of our guns alone throws one hundred and sixty-eight pounds; that's double your whole broadside."

The Englishman immediately collapsed, struck the elevation of his head and walked off.

DAILY PROGRESS.

RALEIGH. N. C.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 22, 1865.

France and the United States.

We see that many of our cotemporaries, North South, are prospecting war between the United States and France. The Richmond Sentinel thinks that "the war cloud is darkening. The signs all concur in indicating an advanced and still advancing attitude on the part of the United States Government relative to Mexico and the Maximilian establishment."

This view appears to be strengthened when we collate the evidence in the case. Our telegraphic summary, last Saturday, contained an account of the reception of Gen. Grant by the Union Leaguers in New York city, on which occasions one of their vice presidents declared "fouler wrong had never outraged human annals than the present French occupation of Mexico. We sympathize with our sister republic in the day of her adversity, and firmly believe in her coming deliverance." Gen. Grant, to whom these extreme sentences had not probably been addressed at random, took the occasion to make them his own, by an emphatic adoption. Passing over all the rest of Beekman's speech of welcome, he said:

"There is one sentiment uttered in your address, which is mine also. It is the one touching the future of Mexico." o o o o o

"When you talk about delivering Mexico, count me in."

Gen. John A. Logan, recently selected as minister to Mexico, just eleven days before his appointment, gave expression to the following sentiments:

"So far as I am concerned, I believe that Maximilian in holding Mexico to-day is part and parcel of the rebellion against this Government. [Cheers.] n o That was a part of the rebellion; it is a part of it to-day, and the Government of the United States has only to say to Maximilian: 'Sir, you must pack up your duds and travel.' [Laughter, ending in another tremendous outburst of cheering.] The Government has not suppressed the rebellion until it does this. [That's so.] I, for one, don't propose to give that State to Maximilian; I, for one, am in favor of our Government saying to him: 'You were induced by this rebellion to take possession of that country, and to attempt to establish yourself there; I will not permit you to stay there; you must get out of that country, and leave it to its people."—[Cheers.]

It is most reasonable to infer that our Government was conversant with the opinions of Gen. Logan before it made him a tender of the Mexican billet. In such circumstances, coupled with the Beekman-Grant reception, and certain diplomatic correspondence of Mr. Seward with the French Minister of Foreign Affairs [illegible] is quite enough to justify a degree of [illegible] sion, yet we incline to the opinion [illegible] still much to hope for from negot[illegible] ever may be the present real aspect of the Mexican-French question. With all our prowess, actual and supposed, hostile relations with France would be to us a great calamity, and something more than the holiday pastime American egotism fashions. True, we cannot compromise with any power when insisting upon the legitimate enforcement of the Monroe doctrine, but let us have a care not to give to it such boundaries as transcend the purposes of its author. The real dangers of the hour to us are not from Maximilian or his protector, the Emperor of the French, but that in watching where there is at least small danger, we shall forget our immediate concerns and so relax in regard for our own fundamental law, as to fail of that through union at home which is essential to the full influence of the United States abroad.

The premature discussion of our foreign relations can be of no possible benefit. Let us leave such matters to the custody of those in whose hands the law and custom has reposed them, thus manifesting confidence in the Government. We shall best serve the interests of the country by devoting all our energies to the work of harmonizing and reconstructing that which four years of war made hostile and destroyed.

FLORIDA AND THE ABOLITION OF SLAVERY.—In the Florida Reconstruction Convention the following clauses were proposed to be made a part of the fundamental law of the State touching African slavery and the rights of freedmen:

1. Whereas, African slavery having been abolished in this State by the military power of the United States.

Be it therefore ordained by the people of the State in General Convention convened, That neither African slavery nor involuntary servitude shall in future exist in this State, except for crimes or misdemeanors, whereof the parties shall have been duly convicted by the courts of the State.

2. The General Assembly shall have power to pass laws to prevent free negroes, mulattoes and other persons of color from immigrating to this State.

3. The General Assembly shall have power to pass laws defining to what extent suits or causes of action, negro and mulatto evidence shall be admitted in this State.

AN IMPORTANT DECISION—CONFEDERATE MONEY RECOGNIZED.—The Lebanoon (Tennessee) Register says:

At the October term of the Circuit Court for Cannon county, 1865, a suit was tried which was predicated upon a promissory note payable in Confederate money, due in November, 1863. Judge Cooper held that, inasmuch as the United States had acknowledged the Confederate States a belligerent power, a contract payable in Confederate money, made in a locality that was in the military occupation of the Confederates, would be valid and binding upon the parties, and that the plaintiff would be entitled to recover whatever the proof showed the Confederate money to be worth at the time the note fell due.

State Items.

We learn from the Salisbury Banner that a gang of desperadoes entered Mr. Hairston's house, at Trading Ford, on the night of the 16th inst., and broke everything to pieces they could not carry off. The party are supposed to be negroes.

Col. Walkup is undoubtedly elected in the 6th District by 58 majority.

A young lady, born without arms, and who knits, crochets, braids hair, embroiders, writes and uses the scissors, knife, fork, tumbler, &c., besides combing her own hair, using only her feet, and rendering her one of the greatest of living curiosities, is holding levees in Wilmington. May-be she will visit Raleigh.

Those who love peanuts will be sorry to learn that instead of one hundred and forty thousand bushels per annum—the regular product before the war in North Carolina—there will be only about fifteen thousand bushels to export this year.

Mr. H. N. Baker, who was so severely wounded in the recent tragedy in Cumberland county, died from his wounds on the 14th inst. Mr. Baker was a native of Woodbury, Pa., and was aged about twenty-six years.

Sax Ryan, Rollie Wilcox and others, are concerting in Wilmington.

Miss Ida Vernon, a very popular actress, is playing "East Lynne," to the Wilmingtonians.

The circular from the Assistant Superintendent of freedmen at Charlotte, Capt. Jno. C. Barnett, is exciting much favorable comment from the press of this State and Virginia. It is about the plainest talk we have yet seen emanate from any of our military men to the darkies, and while it tells them of their shortcomings plainly and boldly, it also urges them with a friendly voice to adopt a wiser and a better course, if they desire to enjoy that freedom which circumstances have put them in possession of. The advice to the freedmen about voting, comes as near a sensible view of the matter as any we have heard. He tells them if they had the right to vote in their present ignorant condition, they would be but tools in the hands of designing men and politicians. The uneducated white man can readily give this as his own experience, notwithstanding he has had to do with political matters all his life; and, surely, Sambo, who has had nothing to do with them, would be in a raw way in the hands of professional politicians who would use him, just as they desire on all occasions.

The Albemarle and Chesapeake canal continues open for the passage of vessels of less beam than 30 feet, and large quantities of produce continue to come through. There are certain repairs necessary, however, which will soon require it to be closed, and will keep it closed two or three weeks. This, however, will not stop the passage of freight; a rail road has been constructed around the lock—which is to be closed—and freight will thus be easily transferred from one level to another, and continue on to its destination, by being changed from one vessel to another.

THE LATE REBEL ATTORNEY-GENERAL.—The United States supply steamer Memphis, which arrived at this port on the 15th instant, brought as a prisoner of State one George Davis, Attorney-General of the late so-called Confederate States of America. Mr. Davis was arrested by the United States Marshal at Key West, on the fourth of the month, and turned over to the custody of Commissioner G. M. Ransom, senior officer of the United States naval force at Key West, as will be seen by the following order:

UNITED STATES MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
Southern District of Florida,
Key West, Nov. 6, 1865.

Commander G. M. Ransom, Senior Officer, United States Navy, Key West, Florida:

SIR—I have arrested Mr. George Davis, (on the island,) late the Attorney-General of the so-called Confederate States. I have to request that the said Mr. Davis may be forwarded to New York in the steamer Memphis, and that the commander of said steamer be instructed to telegraph the Hon. Attorney-General at Washington of the arrival of Mr. Davis, until the pleasure of the government is known.

I have the honor to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,
BENJ. H. KERR,
Deputy United States Marshal, Southern District of Florida.

In pursuance of this order, Mr. Davis was placed on board the Memphis and brought to New York. The government at Washington was informed of his arrival, and directed him to be transferred to Fort Lafayette, United States Marshal Murray being charged with the execution of the order. The prisoner was sent to the Fort yesterday morning. He was very taciturn, having nothing to say relative to the justness or unjustness of his arrest, and seemed disposed to take matters very coolly until the pleasure of the government regarding him could be made known.—New York Herald, 18th.

A hundred and fifty armed troops and the entire police force, were put on patrol at Toronto on Wednesday night. The banks are all guarded, and an attack is nightly expected. The house of Col. Lowrey was pelted with brickbats. Many discharged United States soldiers are said to be in the city. D'Arcy McGee, in a speech delivered in Montreal on Wednesday evening, denounced the Fenians to his heart's content. Yesterday, however, the excitement had abated, and a general feeling of confidence existed, with faith in all the precautions that have been taken to prevent depredations.

SENSIBLE NEGRO.—Ben. L. Turner, a negro, who was selected as a delegate at the recent negro meeting in Selma to the Convention shortly to assemble in Mobile, publishes a card to his brethren in the Selma Times declining the honor, on the grounds that "it was a political concern," and he has "no desire to enter into politics, feeling that the time has not arrived for extending franchise to the whole colored race." Sensible negro, that!

—J. B. Kelso, Radical member of Congress from the Fourth District, recently passed through St. Louis on his way to Washington. While serving as a Captain of the militia he made a vow that he would never cut his hair and beard until he had killed twenty-five bushwhackers with his own hand. He is now close cropped, and boasts he has fulfilled his vow by killing that number.

—A Virginia correspondent of the National Intelligencer says: "Messrs. Orris, Chambliss, Ridgeway, Barbour, Davis and Hodges, elected to Congress from this State, will take the test oath without scruple."—Of the other two, Messrs. Stuart and Conrad, he adds: "Whether able or not to take the oath, they present the best antecedents."

Incidents of the Massacre in Jamaica.—Baron Herschell and his Companions Murdered.

Mr. Dunn was armed with a sword which he took [illegible] endeavored to save himself. The Baron said, "Now we have you Baron, will [illegible]" and loud shouts announced that the deed had been done. Dr. Gerard was then called to come out, the mob protested that they would save him. Mr. McPherson and another concealed themselves, but were soon discovered and examined. Mr. McPherson, C. C., is since dead. The unfortunate gentlemen were then killed in detail under circumstances of great atrocity. Dr. Gerard was then discovered and came forth, Mr. Ratty clinging to him. The latter was, however, torn away and cut down. Captain Hutchins, who had behaved with undaunted bravery, was seriously wounded at last, and faint with the loss of blood, threw his arms round Dr. Gerard's neck, and was despatched in that position.

After Mr. Alberga was butchered the mob were about to murder his already wounded child, when some women interfered and saved the poor innocent. Mr. C. A. Price was murdered almost at the same time with Mr. Alberga, notwithstanding the efforts made by one William Donaldson to save them. This man, we must observe, deserves the greatest praise for the superhuman but unfortunately unavailing exertions which he used to save the lives of the victims. Dr. Gerard owed his safety, in a great measure, to this man's interference. After a series of most eccentric acts, stealing nearly everything in the way of valuables and money from some houses, and sparing others, taking the watches and money of the murdered persons, and saving some and despoiling others, the mob retired from the town a little before the Wolverines hove in sight. The volunteers behaved with great gallantry, and sold their lives dearly. Ammunition failing, they were nearly all destroyed, the very few survivors having been most dangerously wounded.

MUTILATION OF THE DEAD.

Mr. Herchel's tongue was cut out, and the fingers of the Baron's hand were cut off, the murderers observing that they would write no more lies to the Queen. The Clerk of the place concealed himself beneath the pillars of Dr. Gerard's dispensary, and so saved himself. The conduct of the mob was marked with cruelties only parallelled in the history of Indian or New Zealand warfare. The mob abstained from liquor, but it was well ascertained that they partook of a mixture of rum and gunpowder the day previous to their butchery.

Stewart, who struck a fatal blow at the late lamented Mr. Hutchins, went afterwards to Bath where that gentleman's lady resided, and accosted her thus: "Are you Mrs. Hutchins?" On receiving an answer in the affirmative from the trembling lady, he caught hold of both her shoulders, and shaking her rudely, added, "well, I killed your husband, and I am come to ask you to forgive me. Do you forgive me?" "Yes, I do," she gasped with an agonizing look at her poor infant, who was near by within reach of the ruffian's grasp. "You lie," he replied, shaking her with more violence than before; "go down on your knees and tell it to me," Apprehensions for her child vanquished the repugnance she felt at the mere sight of the heartless murderer. What she would have suffered death for, rather than consent to on any other occasion, she did for the sake of the little innocent. Sinking to the abject position he ordered, the poor lady repeated, "I forgive you; as God is my judge I do! But save my poor child, whose father you have killed!" Half doubtful, Stewart looked once more at the prostrated form before him. His fingers clutched as if ready to tear their prey; his features lowered with an expression of savage hate, at the sight of which the widowed mother's heart was ready to sink within her, but struck apparently by some afterthought, he bid her rise and go away with her child, adding, with a significant look after them as they left, "If I could only believe you did not forgive me I would kill you both!" A very short time after this occurrence Stewart was taken and received the traitor's doom on the gallows.

Mr. Cooke, the Clerk of the Peace, was pushed under the floor by a faithful black servant boy, and remained the whole night in a mud-puddle under it formed by hogs. Lying there he could just see through the intervals of the pillars the feet of the rioters as they went by, and hear some of them boast that they had chopped him to pieces. His unfortunate brother had probably been mistaken for him and he owed his safety to that circumstance, which prevented further search after him. The next morning his faithful preserver and companion watched the opportunity, and led him to the woods, where he remained concealed until the military arrived from Kingston.

While the wife and children of this gentleman remained concealed in the house of a druggist, they heard the boast of some men who had brought wounded companions there to be dressed, that "they had chopped up that fellow, Stephen Cooke, so fine his wife would not be able to find a piece of him." The unfortunate woman, with difficulty, suppressed a shriek, which, had she uttered it, might have at once drawn down a bloody revenge upon her kind protector, the druggist.

Doctor Major was lifted over the railing at Mr. Marshalleck's, and that gentleman summoned by the rebels to come and take charge of him and lock him up out of harm's way.

While Dr. Gerard was about parties frequently came around him with threatening gestures, protesting that, but for his being a doctor, they would chop him up fine, and warning him by what they had done of the necessity of sticking to them if he wished to continue safe. At other times he was embraced and petted.

While Mr. Cooke lay concealed under the house he heard distinctly each dreadful act of murder, and could tell the victims by the exclamations of the mob. He heard the dying groans of Mr. Price, who lay with his entrails protruding, having been ripped open by women.

The Custos got hold of a sword and sold his life dearly. The mob disjointed his fingers, leaving them hanging by some small tegument, and laughingly dangled them about with jeers—"Now you write no more lies to the Queen against us!"

Mr. Georges escaped by crawling into some penguins after he had been shot in the thigh. Mr. Price, before leaving the school, had generously handed his revolver to Mr. Georges, saying, "Georges, I cannot escape; I feel it; take this, and try to save yourself."

Mr. Brooks Cooke being felled by a blow, rolled down the court-house hill at the back, and when he recovered his senses, found that he owed his life to the care of a black man who had checked his fall, and stood watching over and protecting him.

The rebels took every article out of Mr. Alberga's residence, not leaving his family even a stitch of clothing. They also went round levying contributions in money and goods from the stores at the Bay.

ANOTHER CANARD EXPOSED.—Says a Washington despatch:

The statements that the immense ironclad Passaconaway and the steamers Minnesota, Galena and Matanza, now at Portsmouth, were ordered to be prepared for immediate service, we are informed, by the highest authority in naval affairs, are not only untrue, but orders were issued to stop all work and close up the shops.

—A Columbus (Ohio) paper, in an account of the Perry celebration at Cleveland, says; "The procession was very fine, and nearly two miles in length, as was also the prayer of Dr. Berry, the chaplain."

Washington News and Rumors.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The chief topic of conversation among politicians continues to be the sending of General Logan to the Juarez government in Mexico. He has all along back in his electioneering speeches denounced the Maximilian occupation in unmeasured terms, and has said that "Max. must get out of there" General Grant, who is a candidate for the next Presidency, and is supported by a very formidable "ring" of military chiefs and politicians in the Northwest, has often, of late, in private communications, spoken of Mexico in like manner. We certainly have army enough (about 200,000,) with no lack of material of war in depots, for the purpose of war. If hostilities ensue in Mexico Napoleon will find the population of the country against him, as was that of Old Spain against Bonaparte, and he will be further from his base of supplies. He has, however, a large navy for a base, and it must be acknowledged that the laying up of so many of our ships, and the discharge of the excess of the officers and crews, don't look much as if war was apprehended.

We have reason to believe that the war Department will call back General Baker, its chief detective, for trial impending upon indictments in our courts.

Mr. Crawford, of Georgia, who was one of the Presidential commissioners to this government pending the going out of the rebellion, is here.

It is stated in republican quarters that the President has given orders that detectives shall be no longer at the White House.

Much is heard about freedmen's distresses and privations, but this point is exposed to-day by a statement from the Freedmen's Bureau.

Gen. Frank Fessenden has been appointed a Brigadier General of volunteers.

It is said that there are immense "rings" in attempts upon government sales, and that transfers have been made themselves and outside are made upon them.

WHOLESALE EXECUTIONS IN JAMAICA—AN EPISODE PROBABLE.—The Court Martial, presided over by Lieutenant and Commander Brand, met at 12 o'clock to-day (Monday.) Sixteen of the rebels were sentenced to death, and one of them flogged—100 lashes. Late in the evening twelve were hanged. Among them is the notorious Cowell. This fellow claims to be a Baptist parson, and officiated in Paul Bogle's Chapel at Stony Gut. He was in an exceedingly emaciated condition and could hardly support himself. He called on the people to take warning by him.

There is one continual scene of hanging day by day, and it becomes a matter for consideration where the burial of so many people (packed, as I hear a Blue Jacket say, "like sardines") in the town is likely to produce some serious epidemic here. Surely the effluvia arising from the graves in which dead bodies are interred pervaded the entire town, and it was not without difficulty that one could avoid getting nauseated. This ought to be looked after—it is a matter of vital importance.

BURNING OF THE MUSEUM!
LETTER FROM MR. P. T. BARNUM!

NEW YORK, July 14, 1865.

Messrs. Herring & Co.:

GENTLEMEN—Though the destruction of the American Museum has proved a serious loss to myself and the public, I am happy to verify the old adage that "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good," and, consequently, congratulate you that your well-known safes have again demonstrated their superior fire-proof qualities in an ordeal of unusual severity.

The safe you made for me some time ago was in the office of the Museum, on the second floor, back part of the building, and in the hottest of the fire.

After twenty-four hours of trial it was found among the debris, and on opening it this day has yielded up its contents in very good order—books, papers, policies of insurance, bank bills, all in condition for immediate use, and a noble commentary on the trustworthiness of Herring's Fire-Proof Safes.

Truly yours,
P. T. BARNUM.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU for non-retention or incontinence of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Bladder or Kidneys, disease of the Prostrate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel or Brick Dust Deposit, and all diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys and Dropsical Swellings.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU FOR WEAKNESS ARISING FROM EXCESSES OR INDISCRETION.

The constitution once affected by Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does. If no treatment be submitted to, consumption or insanity may ensue.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

in affections peculiar to females, is unequaled by any other preparation, as in chlorosis or retention, irregularities, painfulness or suppression of customary evacuations, ulceration or scirrhous state of the Uteras, Leucorrhœ, and all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from habits of dissipation, imprudencies, or in the decline or change of life.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH, will radically exterminate from the system diseases of the urinary organs arising from habits of dissipation, at little expense, little or no change in diet, and no exposure, completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copaiba and Mercury, in curing those unpleasant and dangerous diseases.

USE HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU

in all cases of the urinary organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of bark or iron.

Those suffering from broken down or delicate constitutions, procure the remedy at once.

The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above disease, it is sure to affect his posterity. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

PHYSICIANS, PLEASE NOTICE!

We make no secret of the ingredients.
